

newsletter

Sent: Wednesday, February 25, 2009 8:44 PM
Subject: BCD website!

New BCD Website Unveiled!

Don't miss the greatest show in cyberspace: the all-new website of the American Board of Examiners, with something for everyone who's serious about Clinical Social Work and practice standards, from discount coupons to new certifications in Clinical Supervision and Practice with Children & Their Families.

Visit <http://www.abecsw.org> today!

(Notice)

Consider attending the EASNA Annual Institute in Denver to update your EAP knowledge and gather your CEs for 2009, at a discounted rate.

As a Board Certified Diplomat, you are eligible for the member registration rate (a $100 discount) for the 2009 EASNA Annual Institute, at a price of $465 for full conference registration before March 25th

The Employee Assistance Society of North America (EASNA) Institute is scheduled for May 6-8 at the Downtown Sheraton Hotel in Denver. The Institute content is of high quality, the venue is small and collegial, and the goal is to bring together employer representatives, employee assistance providers, and other experts to hold discussions about the global workforce for the benefit of employers, employees-workers, unions, human resource professionals, and benefits consultants.

Reserve a guest room ($179 per night) online at:

<http://www.starwoodmeeting.com/StarGroupsWeb/booking/reservation?id=0811251573&key=77AA4>.

Access the full conference agenda and register online at <http://www.easna.org/conferences.html>.

Mile-high Denver, in sight of the Rockies, is one of the country's most desirable and exciting places to visit—and Denver International Airport has excellent airline connections.

This is an auto-generated message. Do not hit the reply button. Center/ABE personnel may be contacted at abe@abecsw.org.